FOUR DIE IN HIGHWAY SMASH NEAR KELOWNA

Twisted wrecks, these two cars took four persons to their deaths south of Westbank yesterday afternoon. Vehicle at left carried Westbank residents Thomas B. Reece and his wife, who was killed. Crumpled car at right took the lives of two Vancouver women and a baby. At noon today Mr. Reece was in critical condition and a male passenger of the other car was reported improving. (Photo courtesy Kelowna Courier.)

New Canadian Reactor To Test Uranium Fuels

ANN HARBOR, Mich. (AP) — A way has been discovered to produce electricity directly from atomic power, a University of Michigan scientist said today.

Robert W. Prida, Michigan professor of physics, predicted the development also would pave the way for interplanetary space travel and would power satellites.

The process does away with boilers, turbines, gas conditioners and generators now used in both conventional and atomic electric plants.

Electric power under the process is produced from a uranium carbide source surrounded by a plasma or electrified gas made from cesium, a metal.

CHALK RIVER, Ont. (CP) — A new low-power nuclear reactor designed specifically for testing uranium fuels for large electricity-producing atomic power plants will be built here, at the crown-owned Canadian atomic establishment, it was announced today.

Atomic Energy of Canada Limited, which operates the atomic project, said the new experimental reactor is expected to go into operation next year. To be known by the code name ZED-2, it will cost about $3,000,000.

Construction of the reactor and its buildings and engineering of the reactor are being done by Foster Wheeler Limited of St. Catharines, Ont.

It will be used primarily to investigate the physics of fuel for large atomic power stations such as the CANDU power plant now being designed at Atomic Energy of Canada's nuclear power plant division in Toronto.

URANIUM FUEL

"CANDU" stands for Canadian Deuterium-Uranium. This name was selected because the plant will use natural uranium as a fuel and deuterium, or heavy water, as a moderator and coolant.

The new reactor was named ZED-2 to distinguish it from a smaller reactor at Chalk River, called ZEEP, standing for Zero Energy Experimental Pile.

Construction of the new machine will bring to five the number of experimental reactors at Chalk River. Besides the ZEEP reactor, the others are known by the code names NRX, NRU and PTR.

Lowest Tender For New School Favored by Board

Lowest of five tenders for a new school building on Jermyn Avenue to replace the unit destroyed by fire last fall, is being recommended to the department of education for acceptance by the board of school trustees of School District 15.

The tender is for $19,435 from Ollen & Webber Construction of Penticton.

The board opened tenders last night rejecting four of nine bids submitted as being incomplete.

Five tenders considered for construction of six classrooms and an administration area along with a covered play area, are:

Topping Construction, Oliver, $35,250; Campbell Brothers, Summerland, $30,876; Davis and Taylor, Kelowna, $35,441; C. J. Oliver Ltd., Vancouver, $31,725; and Ollen & Webber, Penticton, $19,435.

Tenders rejected as incomplete were those of David Howie Ltd., Vernon; Pollock & Taylor, Penticton; Busch Construction, Kelowna; and Kenyon & Co., Penticton.

Disposal Area Reserved For Future City Hall

A 10-acre tract of city land on Duncan Avenue, presently occupied by the sanitary disposal field for the wartime housing development, was reserved as a secondary site for a future city hall, library and museum at Penticton city council meeting last night.

The site, not considered suitable for a city hall by Ald. C. P. Bird but eyed with considerable favor by the other aldermen, will become available when the sewer system is extended to the area as part of the current $1.3 million sewer project.

There is no intention of abandoning the present Primary School property as a civic headquarters site, however. Proposal is to have two sites to consider when the city hall project is ready for action, and the Primary School has been relocated away from Main Street.

Objections to the Duncan Avenue site were that it was too far from the business centre of the city and part of a residential area.

No formal bylaw will be passed to reserve the site, the reserve being merely noted on the property records.

Swann Quits Job as City Poundkeeper

Resignation of T. E. Swann as Penticton's poundkeeper was accepted with regret by city council last night, effective April 30.

However, Mr. Swann will be asked to continue until a successor has been named and he has been able to get accustomed to his duties.

"I rather think Mr. Swann will be missed," commented Mayor Oliver, "I've always found him quite efficient."

Ald. C. P. Bird's motion that "a suitable letter" be sent to Mr. Swann and the city advertise immediately for a new poundkeeper, was unanimously adopted.

Legislature in Alberta Prorogues

EDMONTON (CP) — The fifth session of Alberta's 13th legislature was prorogued today by Lieutenant-Governor J. J. Bowlen.

The House sat for two months. A general election is expected this year although Premier Manning's Social Credit government has a mandate which runs until next year.

The lieutenant-governor today gave royal assent to 84 private and government bills. Eleven bills received royal assent March 31.

HOLLYWOOD'S TOP OSCAR WINNERS

Hayward, Niven Win

By JAMES BACON

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Susan Hayward, who once despised winning an Oscar, got it on her fifth try Monday night. David Niven, after 25 years of pleasing movie audiences, won the Oscar for best actor.

The Brooklyn-born redhead and the debonair Scotsman won the academy awards for acting before an audience filled with most of the big names in the entertainment industry. They shared honors with the movie Gigi, which won in every one of the nine categories for which it was nominated — including best picture.

Burl Ives and British actress Wendy Hiller won Oscars for best supporting performances.

WRAPPED UP EARLY

More than 100 big names — from Ingvald Bergman to Eddie Fisher — showed up for Hollywood's biggest night of the year. The acceptance speeches were so short that the NBC-TV show ended some 20 minutes before its two-hour schedule.

Miss Hayward — for her role of condemned, murderous Barbara Graham in I Want to Live! — got the nod on a performance so realistic that it provided fodder for a Bob Hope joke earlier in the evening.

"The movies this year are going in for so much realism," Hope said, "that I was surprised to see Miss Hayward here tonight."

She dies in the gas chamber during the picture.

While the picture was being made, she told a reporter, "after four disappointments, I'm no longer in the business for Oscars. Just say that I do it now for the money and the joy of doing a good part."

She admitted that Monday night's results have changed her views considerably.

HEAVENLY SURPRISED

"I thought I had a good chance but I was pleasantly surprised,"

she said. "And above all thrilled and honored."

Niven won the actor award for playing a pathetic woman-molester in Separate Tables. It was one of the few times in his career that he did not play what the trade calls "a David Niven type."

Niven said: "Damn it, I must say I wanted to win and I'm happy I did."

Gigi got Oscars for best picture, best screen play based on material from another medium, best directing for Vincente Minnelli, best art direction, best color photography, best song (the little number), film editing, costume design and best scoring of a musical picture. The music for Gigi was written by the My Fair Lady team of Frederick Loewe and Alan J. Lerner.

Lerner also got the award for the best screenplay for Gigi.

Burl Ives, the 300-pound folk singer, took a night off from his show at Las Vegas Flamingo

THREE WOMEN, TOT DIE IN CRASH

ENCOURAGING REPORT

Employment Bright In Penticton Area

Employment picture in the Penticton area is brightening, says the local branch of the National Employment Service in its monthly report.

As of yesterday there were 437 fewer unemployed than at the same time in 1958, the report says.

Unemployment never reached the same level as last winter. There are now 1,090 men unemployed, and 88 women.

For Penticton and area the future reflects a much brighter outlook than for some time past.

Main construction projects are the Kruger Hill cutoff and the radio telescope being created at White Lake.

Difficulties of the spring thaw will cause one 40-man logging operation to close down.

In mining, activity has been stepped up by all local operations.

Granby mine at Phoenix has resumed operations after three years of inactivity. By April it will employ 75 men.

Woodgreen copper mine is expected to reopen shortly, and at Mt. McKinley gold mine near Greenwood, five men have been drilling and checking for deposits.

The Oliver fruit juice plant has closed for the season, laying off 20 workers. On the brighter side, the Trump company has built up back orders of $250,000 for its hydraulic lift.

In this area, permits have been granted for $180,000 in new homes, and $168,000 for commercial buildings.

New car sales are up. In the first 25 days of March, one Penticton dealer sold 20 vehicles.

Used car trade remains slow. Property sales are "good", though sales of homes are slow. Low down payments are a trend recently.

Prepaid Parking Rights For Vans Proposed

Proposal to cut prepaid parking privileges for vans delivering perishable foods and dairy products to Penticton stores met stiff opposition at city council meeting last night.

Recommended by council's traffic committee, the plan was tabled for further study after dissenting aldermen pointed out that the city was trying to encourage deliveries from alleys at the rear of stores rather than from main thoroughfares at the front.

Under the plan, operators of delivery vans distributing perishable foods and dairy products would be able to buy free parking stickers for $7.50 per year.

It was noted that Vernon grants this privilege for $5 per year. Action on the matter was deferred pending a report from City Clerk H. G. Andrew who will learn details of the Vernon situation when he attends municipal officers' conference there April 16.

Ald. W. H. L. Whitmer and Ald. Elsie MacCleave, speaking in support of the prepaid parking, said delivery trucks have every right to park in front of meters now if they put money in the meter. Prepaid parking would ensure that their parking time was paid for since many drivers now are taking a chance by not putting money in meters.

Ald. C. P. Bird, chief opponent of the plan, said it would "get us into quite a bit of trouble." Besides acting against council's policy of encouraging deliveries from alleys, prepaid parking would open the door to parking abuses by the delivery men and encourage a large number of requests for similar privileges.

Freedmites Deny Plans Abandoned

NELSON, B.C. (CP) — British Columbia's radical Sons of Freedom Doukhobors have sent a telegram to the Soviet Embassy in Ottawa branding press reports that they intend to abandon plans to go to Russia as false leaders of the sect said Monday.

The telegram was sent Monday by Peter Elasoof, secretary of the sect's 52-member fraternal council, and Mike Hadikin, chairman of a meeting of the Freedmites last Friday at which RCMP were handed a brief to be delivered to the federal government.

Press reports Saturday from the sect's shakhtown headquarters at Krestova said the brief contained a statement that the Freedmites did not wish to proceed with their plans for a mass migration to Russia.

Elasoof and Hadikin said in their telegram the reports were a distortion of the facts. Elasoof, however, refused to comment when asked what the brief actually contained and said nothing would be released until a response has been received from the federal government.

Officers of the RCMP Trail detachment, who were handed the brief at Friday's meeting — the first time in the stormy history of the Sons of Freedom that police officers had been invited to a conference — have also refused to release details.

Other Freedmites interviewed Sunday and Monday refused to discuss the brief but one gave the impression that it asked government assistance in returning Stefan Sorokin, spiritual leader of the sect, from Uruguay.

SPRING BLOOD DRIVE STARTS

Launched by a gala parade, Penticton's three-day Spring Blood Donor Clinic got underway this afternoon in the United Church Hall.

Behind the slogan "It gives you a wonderful feeling to donate your blood," Penticton and District residents are being asked to give at least 1,400 pints so that the life-saving work of the Red Cross blood bank may continue.

"That 1,400 pints is the very minimum that is needed to meet the local needs of our area as well as contribute our share to the national requirements for emergency," points out Al Atton, local blood bank committee chairman. "Giving blood is so simple, entirely painless and quick."

The clinic is open for two sessions daily — from 1:30 to 4:30 in the afternoon and from 6:30 to 9:30 in the evening — today, tomorrow and Thursday.

Lake Clearing 'Costliest Flood Since Noah'

WILLIAMS LAKE (CP) — Liberal Leader Arthur Laing Monday criticized the cost of clearing Buttle Lake on Vancouver Island as the costliest flood since Noah.

In a public address, Mr. Laing said more than $13,000,000 was wasted in the area. He also said cost of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway, the Bridge and Toll Authority and Government House are 88, 40 and 150 per cent, respectively, over original estimates.

The Social Credit government's financial policy is one of inflation and stagnation, he said.

Budget Debate Starts Monday

OTTAWA (CP) — Works Minister Green, government house leader, announces the budget debate will begin Monday, April 13, and continue until Wednesday, April 22.

Finance Minister Fleming is scheduled to bring down his 1959-60 budget Thursday night.

Under Commons rules, eight sitting days are devoted to the budget debate.

U.K. Cuts Income, Purchase Taxes

By WALTER DAVIS

LONDON (Reuters) — The government today reduced income tax and purchase taxes on a wide range of consumer goods, including automobiles and television sets.

Derek Heathcoat Amory, chancellor of the exchequer, announced the cuts in a crowded House of Commons. Newspapers, with an eye on a general election expected later this year, had already predicted the tax cuts.

Income tax changes come into effect in early June. The purchase tax reductions take effect immediately.

Amory, who fortified himself with a mixture of milk, honey and rum during his marathon address, also announced a tax reduction of two pence (about 2 1/2 cents) on a pint of beer. A pint now costs about 20 cents. This cut comes into effect Wednesday.

CUT INCOME RATE

The standard rate of income tax was cut by about 3 1/2 per cent from 42 1/2 per cent. This rate, charged on a man's earnings after deductions, will be seven shillings nine pence (about $1.08) on a pound ($2.80) — nine pence (10 cents) less than the current rate.

For those paying a lower rate of income tax, the rate is reduced by six pence (seven cents).

The chancellor said the total

HEATHCOAT AMORY ... makes Britons happy tax cuts would cost the government nearly $300,000,000.

"It is as far as I can go in taxation relief," he said.

Purchase tax rates drop to 50 per cent from 60 for automobiles, television sets, phonographs, records, cosmetics and other such hard goods.

Goods such as watches, bicycles, toys, refrigerators, and jewelry will be taxed 25 per cent instead of 30. The sales tax on kitchenware drops to 12 1/2 per cent from 15.

Amory said his budget was aimed at expanding British production, which has shown hardly any gain during the last few years because of anti-inflation moves curtailing credit.

Two Men Also Hurt in Valley Car Collision

KELOWNA — A coroner's jury tomorrow will view the bodies of four persons killed Monday afternoon when their two cars smashed together five miles south of Kelowna.

Inquest date will be set tomorrow also, probing the crash which killed three women and a baby and injured two men, one critically.

Mrs. Alfred Brown, 44, Mrs. William Wilson, 26, and seven-months-old Erin Wilson, all of the Vancouver Island community of Sooke, were killed.

So was Mrs. Thomas B. Reece, 65, of Westbank on Lake Okanagan, who with her husband had been planning a 10-month European and Australian holiday.

Mr. Reece, 72, owner of Westbank Orchard Packing House, was still in critical condition in hospital here today.

Dick Thut of Sooke, a passenger in the other car, suffered two fractured legs and was in good condition this morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Reece had just obtained passports for a trip that was to have taken them to England in June. They also intended to visit Australia before coming home next spring.

The two cars smashed together on a straight stretch of the Okanagan highway five miles south of Kelowna. Rescuers had to use crowbars to pry the wrecks apart and get the occupants out.

Police said they believe one of the cars may have suffered a tire blow out and swerved into the path of the other.

The Vancouver Island people were on their way to visit relatives in Vernon and the Reeces were returning from a shopping visit to Kelowna.

Pump Line Replacement Still Hot Issue

Replacement of the Okanagan River irrigation pump line in the Ellis Flats area continued to be a hot issue at city council meeting last night.

Tenders were opened for 2,350 feet of new 12-inch pipe to replace the present line despite attempts first to shelve the tenders and then to have a survey made on whether a new line was necessary or not.

Ald. F. P. Pherson's first proposal that the tenders be tabled "until such time as the consulting engineer can make a survey of the irrigation system and clarify the necessity for that pipe in the first place," failed to get a second and the five tenders were opened.

The tenders were:

Pacific Pipe and Flume, either $8,673.28 or $7,794.81 depending on type of fittings and other factors; Canadian Johns Manville, $7,448.40; Oliver Industries Ltd., $7,509.20; Atlas Asbestos, either $8,520.20 or $8,854.40 for two types of asbestos cement pipe; Ironco Products Ltd., $5,907.60 for asbestos-cement pipe.

The tenders were referred to the irrigation committee for recommendation. Ald. McPherson then made a second attempt to have a survey of the Skaha Lake irrigation situation made by D. K. Penfold, city's consulting engineer. His motion was seconded by Ald. C. P. Bird but failed to get the support of any other aldermen.

Ald. McPherson also took issue with recent statements that the assistant works superintendent had recommended replacement of the pump line.

Works Superintendent E. R. Gaylor explained that replacement of the line was recommended by himself, the assistant superintendent and the irrigation foreman but there was disagreement whether the new line should be merely a four-inch irrigation line supplying water from a flume for some 14 acres west of Skaha Lake Road, or whether a new 12-inch pump line should be put in. The assistant superintendent wanted the line replaced with a four-inch irrigation pipe, and not a new 12-inch pump main, Mr. Gaylor said.

CITY COUNCIL BRIEFS

Saturday Night Store Opening on May 1

Changing Penticton's late shopping night from Friday back to Saturday, will be effective by May 1, City Clerk H. G. Andrew reported at last night's meeting of city council after the aldermen had approved the change as requested by the retail merchants committee of the board of trade.

To reinstitute Saturday night shopping, the store hours bylaw must be amended to provide for 9 p.m. closing on that night rather than Friday as at present.

BOAT RENTAL LEASE

Woolsey for operation of a boat ride and paddle-board service, was approved on recommendation of the parks commission. The lease, a transfer from that formerly held by Peachline Cruises, will be on a one-year basis at an annual rental of $100. The area leased will extend 16 feet further west than formerly, however.

PARKING METER REVENUE

Monthly report from Walt Cousins, traffic superintendent, showed parking meter revenue during March at $1,272 bringing the 1959 total thus far to $3,241 compared with $3,358 for the same period last year. Receipts per meter day were 16.6 cents during March or 14.3 cents for the year thus far compared with 16.1 cents for the same period of 1958.

IMPOUNDED DOGS

Of these, four animals were redeemed, two were given away and two were destroyed. Pound revenue came to $785 including $766 from sale of dog tags, $15 in pound fees and $4 for animal destroying fees.

Mayor Mackay Recalls Gifts At Inquiry

CALGARY (CP) — Mayor Don Mackay told a judicial inquiry into Calgary's civic government that it was "almost impossible" for him to outline in detail all the gifts he may have received from persons having dealings with the city.

The mayor testified as the inquiry, headed by Judge L. S. Turcotte of Lethbridge, resumed after a five-week adjournment. The early part of Monday's evidence concerned gifts to city officials from persons having business with the city.

Answering questions from W. A. McGillivray, counsel for the city, Mayor Mackay referred to a pair of gold cuff links he was wearing. He also referred to a clock given to him by Simpson-Sears, "as a gesture of appreciation."

Dancers Take No Chances in Performance

TORONTO (CP) — The touring Les Ballets Africains opened a weeklong stay in Toronto Monday night and there wasn't a bare bosom in sight.

Several female dancers ordinarily appear with their breasts bared in two of the numbers. But producer Luben Vichey said it was decided to have the dancers wear bras after two women from the Toronto police morality squad visited the Royal Alexandra Theatre during the day.

Mr. Vichey said the officers explained that unless all bosoms were covered it might be necessary to bring the troupe's representatives into court where it would be up to a judge to decide whether there was anything lewd about the performance.

Rather than take a chance on getting tied up with the courts, Mr. Vichey said, the group decided to cover up although in several numbers the bosoms were only a filmy piece of silk away from nudity.

Tension Increases as Budget Day Approaches

By HAROLD MORRISON

Canadian Press Staff Writer OTTAWA (CP) — Drafting of the annual federal budget has become a virtual year-round operation, capped by a feverish final round of activity in the three weeks before the budget is unveiled to Parliament and the Canadian public.

At this stage, two days before "B-day," perhaps only a half dozen persons know all aspects of the secret document to be unveiled in the Commons Thursday night.

They would include Prime Minister Diefenbaker, Finance Minister Fleming and his top associates, Kenneth Taylor, deputy minister; Claude Isbister, assistant deputy minister for taxation; and A. F. W. Plumptre, assistant deputy minister for economics.

MUST NOT LEAK

As the government moves closer to budget day more persons are let in on the secret on the strict understanding that it will not be divulged. A major leak could bring the end to a finance minister's career.

Mr. Fleming is understood to have sketched out some of the general trends to his cabinet colleagues a week or so ago. He likely will fill them in on all remaining details today.

Inherent in all his discussions is the pledge of secrecy. Work is so split up among typists and clerical staffs that lower echelons can't as a rule get access to all budget information at one time. The fewer the persons involved, the less the chance of a leak.

Scraps of paper that may fall by the wayside as budget planning proceeds are carefully gathered and destroyed. Even the carbon paper used by typists is burned.

REVISED AND REVISED

Once drafted, the budget speech is revised over and over again as changes are made in line with nailed-down policy. The final accepted draft may not be completed until a few days before budget time.

The speech is typed and multi-graphed but not put out in printed form until it is delivered in Parliament.

The only advance printed matter is the fiscal "white paper" reviewing the government's operations for the year just ended. This is made public a day before "B-day." It is printed in a security unit of the government printing bureau.

At certain stages, budget planning might be like a three-ringed circus. One group of experts may be engrossed in economic forecasting while another works on possible tax changes and a third on tariff changes. Involved in tariff proposals are months of hard international bargaining.

MUST BE EARLY

There are some last-minute demands by associations and other groups to have their special appeals for tax changes considered. However, authorities have long emphasized that those who wait until the last few weeks to make their appeals usually go away empty-handed.

One authority said budgets come almost automatically in the spring; adding that the time to make appeals is the previous fall, about six months before budget time.

NO THANK YOU FOR MONEY

ALLEN PARK, Mich. (AP) Mrs. Irene Manke, an Allen Park housewife, struck it rich at the supermarket.

When she got home and began putting her groceries away she found a paper bag containing hundreds of dollars in cash, plus a lot of cheques. She said she didn't count it but called the store manager, who rushed over to retrieve the day's receipts. "He didn't even thank me," she said.

Polish Liner Battles Ice

HALIFAX (CP) — The Polish liner Batory was reported making steady progress early today through Cabot Strait ice on her bid to reach the St. Lawrence River. She carries 682 passengers.

A spokesman for Pickford and Black Limited, Batory agents here, said there were indications the Batory would be in position by tonight to pick up her St. Lawrence River pilot. "She is pretty well into the strait" now, he said. At 2 a.m. she was abreast of Cape Ray off Newfoundland's southwest coast.

Britons May Get Tax Concessions

By KEN METHERAL

Canadian Press Staff Writer LONDON (CP) — Derek Heathcoat Amory introduces his second budget today and all Britain is awaiting the event with the air of children watching a box of favors being unwrapped at a birthday party.

All the evidence suggests that the chancellor of the exchequer will bring down a budget featuring tax cuts and other measures designed to increase production and give the country a healthy shove along the road to increased prosperity.

In fact expectations are running so high there is a danger that no matter what relief the tall, stoop-shouldered chancellor offers tax-weary Britons, his concessions will come as an anticlimax.

Most economic experts are predicting concessions totalling between £200,000,000 and £300,000,000, including some relief in the fields of income and purchase tax.

SHILLING OFF

Some Conservative circles predict Amory will cut up to a shilling off the income tax, which would reduce the standard rate to 7s 6d on the pound with proportionate cuts in the lower rates. But this would cost the treasury an estimated £270,000,000 and a more realistic prediction would be a cut of not more than 6d.

Canada Urged to Produce A-Bomb

By KEN KELLY

Canadian Press Staff Writer OTTAWA (CP) — J. W. Murphy, chairman of the Commons mines committee, has hinted in the Commons that he favors Canadian production of atomic bombs for peaceful purposes.

The Ontario Progressive Conservative MP for Lambton West suggested in debate Monday on research that a Canadian bomb might serve for such projects as the planned underground atomic explosion to separate oil from sands in northern Alberta.

URANIUM MARKET UNSURE

Mr. Murphy said Canada, as a producer of 30 per cent of the world's uranium ore, faces uncertainty of marketing it in three or four years when contracts with the U.S. end.

He indicated a Canadian bomb would provide an outlet for uranium production.

Mr. Murphy suggested that to help pay for a Canadian bomb project Britain should be approached to share in development of the bomb.

His statements were made in guarded terms without any reference to the declaration earlier this session by Prime Minister Diefenbaker that his government's policy is "not to undertake the production of nuclear weapons in Canada, though we believe Canadian scientists and technicians are quite capable of producing them."

ARCTIC RESEARCH NEEDED

During the debate, Hazen Argue, CCF House leader, said Canada must do more research in the Arctic to preserve its national integrity. Canada was dependent on reports of Russian scientists for knowledge of this country's northern regions.

Support for the motion was unanimous from all speakers but the Commons reached no decision on it by the adjournment hour.

Mr. Argue urged that a free vote be allowed on the resolution, remarking that the government seems to pay no attention to private members' resolutions and allows them to be buried to death.

He was supported by Winch (CCF) — Vancouver — who said that in the interim, getting a decision in the time allotted for debate on it he would merely state his support and take his seat. And he did just that after saying only 100 words.

Widow Jailed For Robbery; Identity Mystery

NEW YORK (AP) — A frail, gentle-mannered widow who pulled two audacious Manhattan bank robberies was sentenced to jail Monday, but her true identity and background remained a mystery.

As Mrs. Vera Owen Wilson, 57, she was sentenced to serve from two to four years on her guilty pleas to two bank holdups. Judge Mitchell D. Schweitzer said she had successfully resisted the efforts of the Federal Bureau of Investigation and police to obtain information about her.

"I don't believe she has given me her right name," commented her lawyer, Harold O. N. Frankel. He said he believes she is trying to spare her children and grandchildren the shame of her notoriety.

Mrs. Wilson threatened a bank teller with a glass of "acid" last Dec. 3 and escaped with more than $3,000 in cash. The liquid was really water.

About a month later she tried the same trick again at another bank, and was caught fleeing with more than $1,000. She readily admitted both holdups.

"I just wanted to get out of the miserable life I was leading," she told authorities.

She said she was homeless, penniless and friendless and had been living in Pennsylvania station.

When she was arrested, Mrs. Wilson told police only that she was born in Johnstown, Pa., and that her travelling-salesman husband died 27 years ago.

CELEBRATION REVIEWED FOR CANADIAN CLUB

Centennial "Carrot" Proves Boon to B.C.

The most amazing carrot ever dangled, produced over $4 million in centennial year construction, reported provincial architect Willard Ireland last night.

The "carrot," he told Penticton Canadian Club was $300,000 in grants-in-aid disbursed by the provincial government toward community projects during 1958.

30-1 RESPONSE
The province's dollar was supposed to be matched evenly by each community, but some put up $30 for every one received from the government, Ireland said.

"The province now has 80 to 90 new parks, dozens of community halls, plus libraries, museums, hospital additions and old folks' homes."

"In Tatla Lake, 200 residents took their $120 grant and built a $12,000 community hall."

HOW TO DEDICATE
One Kootenay community of 48 installed indoor plumbing in their community hall.

"It raised the question: how do you dedicate these things?" quipped Ireland.

He listed five aims of the centennial year. It was for British Columbians, not just a tourist attraction; residents were to take a hand in it, not sit back and be entertained; it was to leave permanent works; it was to unite the province in varying degrees; it was to bring rival communities together.

"That was why we had our vintage car run from east to west, and our Simon Fraser brigade paddling north to south."

HISTORY TAUGHT TOO
"In the past 25 years our population has doubled, so we wanted to teach our newcomers something of our history."

To this end, Ireland said, he had despatched his most valuable relics in two trailer caravans which toured the entire province.

"It paid off, because 80 communities wrote their own histories."

Mr. Ireland is currently on a tour of the Interior, reviewing accomplishments of the centennial year.

Delightful Idea Says Council to Tulip Plot Plan
Hailed as a "delightful idea" by Penticton city council last night was a preliminary plan for the planting of 25 dozen golden tulip bulbs from Holland in Penticton next year.

The proposal, outlined to council in a letter from the local Girl Guide association, is part of Canadian Girl Guides' plan to import 20,000 dozen bulbs from Holland and plant them across the country in commemoration of the Jubilee year of Guiding.

NEAR CITY HALL
The local association's request for permission to plant Penticton's share in some specified city property, "preferably in the vicinity of city hall," was referred to the parks commission for recommendation.

Since there are five Brownie packs and two Guide companies in Penticton and each company or pack would be asked to plant at least four dozen bulbs, Penticton's quota would come to 28 dozen plants.

Actual planting would be done by the older girls of the two Guide companies.

Fire Loss Over $3,000 in March
Fire loss in Penticton was over 300 per cent greater last month than in March last year, according to the monthly report to city council from Fire Chief Merv Foreman.

The report showed last month's fire loss at $3,035 compared with $923 for March, 1958.

There were seven general alarms and 12 silent alarms last month along with three investigations and two rescue and safety calls.

VANCOUVER (CP) — Motor vehicle accidents took 45 lives in British Columbia during January and February of this year, the B.C. Safety Council said today. Various other accidents brought the total to 154 accidental deaths for the two-month period.

Parley for Tourism Shareholders Here

Shareholders in a $3 million business of the Penticton area will gather for a special preparedness clinic Thursday evening.

The business is the tourist industry and the shareholders are all the city's citizens since each of them benefits in some way from the dollars spent here by out-of-town visitors.

The meeting will be the monthly dinner gathering of Penticton Board of Trade in Hotel Prince Charles beginning at 6:30 p.m.

Special feature this month will be a panel discussion on the tourist industry to be moderated by Ernest Evans, director of the B.C. Travel Bureau.

Panel members and their position of the discussion will be: THREE SPEAKERS

Tony Rafter of Spokane Chamber of Commerce visitors' bureau, "How to Bring Them Here"; Ward J. Walker, motel authority and owner of the Desert Caravan Inn, Spokane, "Accommodation"; and Ralph J. Flitton of Imperial Oil Ltd., "How To Treat Them When Here."

All board members are urged to attend what promises to be one of the most important sessions of the year.

Mayor's Wrath Vented On Job out of Budget

Charges by Mayor C. E. Oliver that city taxpayers were being put to $20,000 of needless expense proved groundless last night when it was disclosed that the work in question had been removed from this year's budget.

Project was installation of a storm drain in the Churchill-Alexander area, originally proposed as part of the winter work program.

"It's going to cost $20,000 and it's not necessary," protested the mayor.

"I don't see how it can cost anything when the board of works committee has recommended against it," replied Works Superintendent E. R. Gayfer.

"If I hadn't knocked it, it would have gone into effect," retorted the mayor.

Attempts by Mr. Gayfer and Ald. Elsie MacCleave to explain that council as a whole was against the project at this time and would not let it go through, were shouted down by the mayor.

The furor subsided minutes later when Ald. C. P. Bird suggested it was time that council got on with its agenda.

It came as a surprise to Dr. Wilcox who had not been notified of the honor until the citation arrived in the mail.

A few years ago Dr. Wilcox was made a member of the Agricultural Institute of Canada, also an honorary appointment.

He is the only person at the Experimental Farm to be an F.A.A.S.

Building Upsurge Noted in Penticton Last Month

Penticton's construction industry, lagging for the first two months of 1959, took a big surge forward in March and almost caught up to last year.

Value of building permits issued last month was over 50 per cent higher than for March, 1958, the monthly report of Building Inspector George Corbin to city council last night, showed.

There were 52 permits issued for private dwellings and 15 for business and industrial projects for a total value of $499,650.

In March last year there were 66 permits issued representing $298,060 worth of new construction.

The March totals bring 1959 building totals to $644,579 compared to $685,250 for the same period last year.

Protest in Vain on Garbage Rate Rulings

Penticton's revised schedule of garbage rates came under fire from a partner in a tent and trailer camp and from a retired couple at city council meeting last night but neither of the protesters brought any change.

Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Thom, 644 Victoria Drive, objected in a letter to council against having to pay two garbage rates of 75 cents per month for their dwelling even though part of the building was rented to another family.

They contended that either there should be just one garbage rate for the building or the apartment rate of 50 cents per month per unit should apply. The establishment should not be treated as a duplex because there was only one common entrance for both families.

Council upheld the interpretation of H. W. Cooper, city treasurer and collector, that two self-contained living units in one building were equivalent to two homes and would be charged accordingly.

FILLED NEIGHBOR'S
Mr. Cooper added that the city had a volume-based garbage rate structure some time ago and "it was amazing how many residents got up in the middle of the night and filled their neighbor's garbage bins."

The protest on charges for garbage at tent and trailer parks came from Herb Clark who did not quarrel with the charge of 50 cents per tenting space provided in the new garbage rates bylaw, but felt this charge should apply for July and August only rather than July, August and September, as council has planned.

Council suggested no change would be made unless further protests were received from tenting ground operators before final reading of the garbage rates by-law amendment next Monday.

WINTER PEAK ABOUT SAME FOR FIVE YEARS PAST

Improving Job Picture Seen
Vancouver — Provided there are no major work stoppages and weather conditions remain favorable, British Columbia can expect a gradual improving employment situation during 1959, Horace Keetch, regional director Unemployment Insurance Commission told a conference on unemployment here sponsored by the Vancouver and District Labor Council.

"Winter unemployment in the province of British Columbia follows a well-set pattern," he said, "starting usually around the first week in September and reaching its peak either in late January or early February."

"Our records show that the total of persons unemployed, percentage-wise, has not varied a great deal at winter peaks for the past few years," he added.

300,000 MORE PEOPLE
Mr. Keetch explained that the population of the province has increased during the past five years by about 300,000, and although these additional people have increased the labor force, they have also increased the total number of unemployed during the winter months.

He pointed out that at the winter peak there was only one per cent more of B.C.'s labor force out of work than during the peak of five years ago.

Another factor contributing to the unemployment situation in British Columbia, Mr. Keetch continued, was the never-ending drift of persons into the province from other parts of Canada and Europe.

WINTER WORK DRIVE
The regional director referred to the Federal Government's Winter Employment Campaign and stated that as a result of the publicity and co-operation from local winter employment committees many persons obtained jobs this past winter who would normally have been unemployed.

Commenting on the municipal works program, also sponsored by the federal government, Mr. Keetch said 253 projects costing in excess of $7,360,000 have been approved in British Columbia, providing some 125,000 man-days of work to 2,478 jobless persons.

Fellowship Honor Pleasant Surprise

SUMMERLAND — Dr. J. C. Wilcox, officer-in-charge of the Soils Department at the Experimental Farm here has been awarded a fellowship in the American Society for the Advancement of Science. This is an honorary distinction given for outstanding service.

It came as a surprise to Dr. Wilcox who had not been notified of the honor until the citation arrived in the mail.

A few years ago Dr. Wilcox was made a member of the Agricultural Institute of Canada, also an honorary appointment.

Dr. W. E. Boyd Dies Enroute To Kaleden

Kaleden residents have received word of the death of Dr. W. E. Boyd in Toronto.

Dr. and Mrs. Boyd left Kaleden early in January to visit relatives and friends in Ontario and were on their way home when Dr. Boyd was taken ill.

Dr. Boyd was born and raised in Creemore, Ont., and it was there that he was buried last Saturday.

He was a graduate in Dentistry from the University of Toronto and practiced in Espanola, Ontario until he came to Kaleden in the summer of 1948.

He purchased a five-acre orchard and the following year built a beautiful home, where they have since resided. Dr. Boyd was very fond of gardening. Roses were his favorites and his garden has become a show place throughout the summer.

He is survived by his wife, Stella, a daughter, Mrs. Ray (Beverly) Iwaasa and three grandchildren in Edmonton, and two sisters and three brothers in Ontario.

Summer'd Concert Group to Name Officers Tomorrow
Nominations are ready for officers of Summerland Overture Concert Series' Association for next season.

A successful season concluded last week with the presentation of the Cassetti Players from Vancouver.

Tomorrow evening a general meeting of the membership will be held in the high school library for the election of next year's directorate and for planning fall and winter programs for 1959-60.

Limited Level for High-Line Services

Restrictions on new domestic water services in the area served by Penticton Creek high-line and preliminary investigation for a new line from the lower reservoir to the main domestic water network at Government Street, were approved by city council last night.

D. K. Penfold, city's consulting engineer, is being asked to prepare plans and estimates for bylaw purposes for installation of the new intake main which would provide an additional volume of water for domestic water lines throughout the city. An amount of $150,000, to be raised by bylaw, is tentatively provided in the budget for this work.

On recommendation of the domestic water committee, it was decided that water from the high-line would not be supplied above the 1,550-foot level in the Carmi-Ridgedale area although lots above this level that are directly fronting on the high-line, would be granted a connection.

On the Upper Bench Road, domestic water service will not be available for new subdivisions although services will be permitted to lots facing on Upper Bench Road.

Also part of the plan to provide a bigger volume of water for the domestic water network, is connection of mains from the high-line to the grid at Government Street after a booster pump and chlorinator have been installed on the high-line.

VINEGAR PLANT LINE
Domestic water committee's recommendation that installation of a $4,200 domestic water line on Waterloo Avenue be carried out when the line is required by Western Vinegars Ltd., was approved.

Plans for the vinegar plant have not been finalized yet, however, and the proposed site on Waterloo Avenue is still in the hands of the city.

Application from A. F. Cunningham Real Estate for domestic water service on Lot 31, Map 306, south of Truro Street, was referred to the domestic water committee for recommendation.

Further Study for Major Park Plan

Proposal from the Skaha Lake Ratepayer's Association for long-term development of a major park area on Dawson Avenue, was referred to the parks commission for recommendation by city council last night.

The association's letter pointed out a need for a major park in Penticton adding that the Dawson Avenue property, of which two city-owned lots have already been reserved for park purposes, were ideal for such a project, having a sweeping view of Penticton and much of the valley as well as ample ground for scenic and shaded forest walks.

Proposal is for the city to dedicate Lots 159 and 164 as park land, adjoining Lots 162 and 163, which have already been dedicated.

Also the city should acquire an adjoining triangle from the Wiltse estate and another from Boulbee and Gardiner, to make a total park area of between 60 and 70 acres.

The association points out that Dawson Avenue lots are almost in the centre of a map of Penticton.

Swedish Tenor to Sing At Church Service Here

Still the Fastest Growing City in the Interior of B.C.

A more than $2,000,000 lead in building development should demonstrate to the pessimists that Penticton is not quite so dead as they would like to think.

During 1956, '57, and '58 construction in Penticton, according to official figures, totalled $7,850,071. Kelowna takes second place over $2,000,000 back with $5,650,322, a fact our neighboring city will doubtless have difficulty in living down. Adding spice to Kelowna's second spot position is the fact that Vernon, sometimes thought of as the poor relation of the Okanagan, is only $13,792 behind Kelowna in development with a grand total of $5,636,530 over the three year period. Kamloops shows the least development with $5,503,545 between 1956 and 1958.

These figures, though they give no cause for complacency, should go a long way towards alleviating the suggestion made from time to time that the Penticton Board of Trade is not doing the job it should on promoting the city. If the board is neglecting its duty, then some other kind agency must be looking after our affairs.

But, as we say, the fact that we are leading the entire Valley in development at the present time should not give rise to complacency. Having a lead and holding a lead are entirely different things. We should capitalize on the present situation by letting every businessman showing the least interest in our city know that to date we are still the fastest growing city in the Interior of British Columbia.

Suddenly it Was Spring

Spring came suddenly this year. When the official day came in March there was still a cold wind whipping white-caps on the lakes and swirling dust-devils down the streets. The calendar could read as it would, so far as we were concerned the chill breath of winter was still on the hills. Overcoats and scarfs wrapped tight were the dress of the day.

Then, one day last week, without warning, Spring came rustling back on a breeze that was soft on the cheek. Grey clouds dragging over the hilltops gave way to a higher, more heavenly breed. Blue skies greeted the early riser and the twilight seemed a little longer.

There was a final flourish from sullen winter on Sunday with a toll of unexpected damage, but it was a dying effort. We didn't rejoice in the semi-gale and the damage it caused but we knew that winter was defeated even as we leaned into the wind.

Flowers were already weeks old in some gardens, the early blossoms were out, the lilac in full bud and ready to thumb its nose at the last snow on the hills. Only the most negligent of fruit growers was ignoring the call of the year. Tractors roared in almost every orchard, discs flashed as they bit into winter sleeping soil — and our chemical institution let us know beyond doubt that the time to battle the earliest orchard bugs had once more arrived.

So, as in other years, our hearts became just a little lighter. Troubles seem less pressing, smiles easier to flash. Like Untermyer our ears open to music and thrill with Spring's first flute and drums.

Good Drivers Inconspicuous

A desire for recognition is one of the basic human needs. The young, and the immature (who may be not-so-young), often seek the recognition they crave by making themselves conspicuous. That is particularly true on the roads.

Probably the best short definition of good driving is "A good driver is inconspicuous at all times." Remember that—it's a sure way to recognize consistent good driving. And if it isn't consistent, it isn't good.

Apply that definition and you will spotlight bad driving of every degree; from racing to 90 mph with a blaring horn, to clattering up windows with dice and baby boots.

Following too closely, cutting-in, lane straddling, passing on curves are all conspicuous — and all are bad driving. So is loafing along a busy highway at 35 mph; delaying hundreds by parking on main thoroughfares at rush hours; pumping the horn in a traffic jam; stalling and bumping when trying to park.

A driver is conspicuous when his name is called out in police court; when he has to admit to friends that his licence has been suspended; and he is very, very conspicuous when a crowd gathers to see him helped out of an automobile wreck.

Everything the man-at-the-wheel does that attracts undue attention is bad driving. "A good driver is inconspicuous at all times."

A SPEAKER THE OTHER DAY SAID CANADIANS SHOULD SPEND LESS TIME ON COMIC PAGES AND MORE ON PUBLIC AFFAIRS SO THAT INFLATION CAN BE CONQUERED. MAYBE THE NEWSPAPERS SHOULD RUN COMIC STRIPS ON THE EDITORIAL PAGE.

Education Talks In Britain Set

By M. McINTYRE HOOD
Special London (Eng.)
Correspondent
For The Herald

LONDON — Leading educationalists from all the provinces of Canada will be coming to England in July to take part in a Commonwealth Education Conference. While in this country, they will join in the discussions of the conference to be held at Oxford from July 15 to 29. They will also spend the week before the conference visiting various educational establishments in the United Kingdom. They will be the guests of the United Kingdom Government for the whole period of three weeks.

PLANNED IN MONTREAL

This conference is one of the results of the Commonwealth Trade and Economic Conference held at Montreal in September of 1958. The ministers in attendance at that conference decided that a meeting should be convened in Britain at some time in 1959. Its purpose is to formulate a new program of Commonwealth scholarships and fellowships, and to review the existing arrangements for co-operation between Commonwealth countries on all aspects of education.

ALL HAVE ACCEPTED

It has been announced by the Commonwealth Relations Office that all of the governments of Commonwealth countries have accepted the invitation to send representatives to the conference. The Principal Colonial territories will also send representatives. Delegates from overseas are expected to arrive in the United Kingdom early in July for the pre-conference tour of the country.

Agreement on Columbia Near

By JOHN E. BIRD
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA (CP) — Canada and the United States may move closer this week to some form of international arrangement for joint development of the rich hydro-electric resources of the mighty Columbia River.

The International Joint Commission will tackle the main obstacle to such an agreement at a four-day meeting opening Wednesday in Washington.

This stumbling block is known as downstream benefits — what Canada should get from the U.S. for damming the Columbia and storing water in Canada which could be fed to American power plants to generate power when the river normally is low.

CANADA'S DEMAND

Since 1951 Canada has demanded that the U.S. make payment in power for downstream benefits. For years the U.S. took the view that it would make no payment, but it recently agreed in principle that this country should receive a share of power generated at American plants by water stored in Canada.

The Canadian and American representatives on the IJC will consider the share of power Canada should receive. Unofficial reports in Ottawa say Canada will press for half the additional electricity developed in the U.S. in exchange for Canadian administration and regulation of the year-round water flow.

Canadian officials are optimistic about the chances of an agreement being reached, either at this week's meeting or at subsequent ones. However, if the Americans refuse to make what Canadian officials describe as a reasonable payment for downstream benefits, negotiations may collapse.

The Washington meeting also will consider a report by the International Columbia River Engineering Board concluding that it is "physically and economically feasible" to go ahead with joint development of the Columbia.

The river rises in British Columbia, crosses the international boundary near Trail, B.C., and flows through the power-hungry northwestern U.S. to the Pacific Ocean.

ALTERNATE PLANS

The board proposed three alternate plans, each calling for expenditures of up to $1,000,000,000 in Canada and $2,500,000,000 in the U.S. Its report was a technical examination of the three proposals and did not deal with the touchy question of downstream benefits.

However, the report did say that for any further progress toward co-operative development "some measure of general agreement between the two countries should be reached with respect to principles for sharing benefits and costs."

A draft defining downstream benefits will be placed before the Washington meeting as a basis for discussion. This follows instructions to the Canadian and American sections of the IJC by

OTTAWA REPORT

New Trade Experiment

By PATRICK NICHOLSON

Ten years ago, Canada and 11 other nations situated around the basin of the North Atlantic Ocean signed the North Atlantic Treaty. Under Article Two of that treaty, called "The Canadian Clause" because Canada designed it and insisted upon its inclusion, the NATO allies agreed to be allies rather than rivals in trade and economic matters.

Ten years ago, Canada's then Foreign Minister, Hon. L. B. Pearson who was the parent, apparent of the Canadian Clause, predicted that that clause would lead to the creation of an economic and perhaps even a political commonwealth of the Western World.

As this column has recently pointed out, Pearson's baby was left out in the cold, abandoned by its parents and by its foster-parents in the other NATO governments, and murdered by neglect.

That economic and political commonwealth will never now stem from NATO. But the brilliant idea behind the Canadian Clause, conceived ten years before its time, is beginning to flower elsewhere, with Canada included out.

As a first step, six nations in western Europe have formed themselves into the European Common Market. France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg have set out on a voyage planned to make them an integrated economic unit within 15 years. With a joint population of over 100,000,000 inhabitants today, with tariffs already slashed 10 per cent, with government aid and co-ordination in the wholesale modernization and replanning of their industrial and agricultural activities; they are on their way to become a United States of Western Europe.

Their economic integration is far more than a mere customs or tariff union; it is a step towards their political federation.

Yet 15 years ago they were fighting each other. As soon as the great rival steel and coal industries of western Europe were co-ordinated and enabled to work together peacefully, the centuries-long rivalry between France and Germany vanished, proving that it is not mankind that makes wars, it is industrial companies.

The chief purpose of the Common Market is to compel a rationalization of industrial development; to force modernization of plants, greater specialization of production, and better division of labor.

In addition to these steps, the Common Market will foster a gradual removal of tariff barriers between its member nations; it will permit free migration of population; it will open up a huge market to producers; it will encourage free circulation of capital and currency.

ADVANTAGES FOR ALL

1. The creation of a basis for efficient mass production to satisfy the huge new mass market.

2. An increase in productivity.

3. A reduction in costs, and hence lower living costs.

4. A greater variety and an improved quality in the goods produced.

5. A reduction of the possibilities of recession and virtual elimination of unemployment.

6. A relocation of production units in the most efficient sites, in relation to raw materials, power and transportation.

One of the great lessons for us in North America in this interesting European experiment is that their planners are aiming at raising the living standards not by increasing wages but by decreasing costs. Thus each family will become better off not because father's pay packet increases, but because mother's groceries bill decreases.

The European Common Market is setting up, among the nations who together form our second best customers, a self-sufficient economic unit resembling the United States of America. It may be across an ocean and far away, but it is terrifying close to our pockets; are we going to be pushed to the wall in the toughening international trade race? Can we afford to be a wall-flower at this dance of the tariff-cutters? Just what is to be our role in the international cold war played on a continental and ideological scale, and just how do we, the world's greatest per capita exporting nation, fit into this rapidly developing new trade picture?

Early Months Vital to Unborn

It is ironic that so few women pay much attention to their condition during the first nine weeks or so of pregnancy. For these are the most crucial weeks in the child's development in the mother's body.

This is the time when the yet unborn child can be most easily and most seriously affected by a variety of things which affect the mother, including diseases such as German measles or syphilis, external injuries or drugs.

THE FIRST MONTH

By the time you miss your first monthly period, your baby's heart and intestines are already developing. The arms and legs also are forming during the first month.

The face and the eye lenses begin forming about the fifth or sixth week. A serious illness or accident along about this time might result in blindness or hearing loss.

From the sixth to the eighth week, the development of the head progresses. It also is a vital period of the functioning of the lungs and heart. Yet, at this stage, the embryo is less than two inches long.

STILL VULNERABLE

By the time the third month rolls around, the baby is considerably sturdier. However, even at this stage he or she is still vulnerable to deafness and heart trouble.

Throughout the nine month period — right up to the time the baby draws its first breath — there is a certain amount of danger that the brain and nervous system might be injured.

In a recent Public Affairs Committee pamphlet (No. 272, "Will My Baby Be Born Normal?"), doctors list the seven chief threats to the unborn child.

HEREDITARY FACTORS

These include hereditary factors, defective germ cells, environmental factors, such as hormonal disturbances in the mother, diseases, the Rh blood factor, prematurity, and external injuries such as lack of oxygen, radiation, poisons and drugs.

Of course I don't expect all expectant mothers to spend the first two months of their pregnancies in bed. However, I do want them to see a doctor as soon as they suspect they are pregnant. And I want them to continue seeing him for periodic examinations until after the birth of the child.

By following the doctor's advice, many of the potential dangers to the unborn child can be avoided.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

WIDESPREAD INTEREST

St. Ann's Setting for Impressive Pounds-Lesiuk Wedding Ceremony

International interest was focussed on nuptial ceremonies in St. Ann's Catholic Church at Penticton, Saturday, when Zenida Lesiuk, daughter of Mrs. K. Lesiuk and the late Stephen Lesiuk of Trail, became the bride of John Pounds of Seattle.

Rev. L. Viney of Penticton conducted the wedding ceremony and said the nuptial mass. Irises, tulips and daffodils above the main altar, provided a spring atmosphere for the ceremony with a special bouquet of pink roses and white carnations being placed in front of the Blessed Virgin's statue.

ECRU LACE, TAFFETA GOWN
The bride, formerly a nurse at St. Vincent's Hospital in Vancouver, was given in marriage by her brother, Harry Lesiuk, of Trail. She wore a gown of ecrú lace over taffeta sheath with a matching headband. A cross pendant was her only jewelry and she carried an orchid prayer-book corsage.

Mrs. Fred Iverson of Trail, a sister of the bride, was bridesmaid, wearing a blue sheath crepe dress with white velvet headpiece. She carried a nosegay of violets and white carnations.

Groom's attendant was Jack Alder of Seattle with Kenny Kinder of the same city, serving as usher.

Miss Marie Lenz of Penticton was organist, also accompanying four solos sung by Vic Misutka of Penticton, a brother-in-law of the bride.

A reception in the Prince Charles Hotel's Glangary Room for 30 relatives and friends followed the ceremonies.

Toast to the bride was proposed by Capt. W. E. Harrell of the U.S. Airforce, from Fair Oaks, California, bride's brother-in-law, with the groom responding. Toasts were also proposed to the bride's mother, the bridesmaid, the U.S.A. and the Queen.

Telegrams of congratulation were read from friends and relatives in Vancouver, Seattle and Edmonton.

FLORAL DECOR
The bride's table was centred by a three-tiered wedding cake. Spring flowers decorated the reception room.

The bride donned a white cashmere sheer dress with white flowered hat and mink jacket as her going-away ensemble and the newlyweds departed on a honeymoon motor-tour of U.S. points and Mexico.

On their return Mr. and Mrs. Pounds will take up residence in Seattle. The groom is employed on a merchant ship which operates from Seattle to Asia and the East Indies.

Following the reception friends and relatives joined Mr. and Mrs. Vic Misutka at their 583 Alberia Avenue home for a social gathering.

Out-of-town guests included the bride's mother, her brothers, Mike and Harry Lesiuk, and her brother-in-law and sister Mr. and Mrs. Fred Iverson all from Trail; the groom's sister, Mrs. Lois Brophy of Seattle; the bride's brother-in-law and sister, Captain and Mrs. W. E. Harrell, and daughter Mary Anne from Fair Oaks, California; friends of the bride from Vancouver, Miss H. Macaskill, Solena Lee, Vera Wells and Eunice Johnson; and Mr. and Mrs. K. Kinder and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Alder of Seattle.

Chinese Foods Are Frozen for Market

"A most extraordinary man, Mr. Jeno Paulucci of Minnesota, and a most extraordinary line of Chinese food he now has for nationwide sale," the Chief remarked as we returned to the test-kitchen from a Chinese luncheon for food editors.

"Mr. Paulucci has that rare ability to envision what can be done from what he has to work with," I replied, "to use fully the resources that are available."

BEAN SPROUTS

"Just eleven years ago, he discovered that Americans liked Chinese food. He scraped together a little money and went into the business of growing bean sprouts. He didn't sit around and watch others—he worked long, productive hours."

"Today, Madame," the Chief said, "two have literally tasted the fruit of his work. I do not mean only bean sprouts but also two fine frozen canned Chinese soups (Won Ton and egg drop), shrimp egg rolls and fruit rolls. And, on store shelves all over the country, there are nearly two dozen different canned Cantonese food products, many in the new flavor-guard divider-pack cans."

FINE CONTRIBUTION

"These foods are a fine contribution to our cuisine, Chef. We can all serve a complete Chinese meal now with little effort, or we can introduce one Chinese food into an otherwise American meal, just as we introduce French Onion Soup or Chili Con Carne."

KELLY'S CORNER

A guest column from Jim Hume, editor of the Herald, brings a brief respite for the faithful few who have been wading through our jumbled jottings. While we suspect his offer stems from a desire to give his blood-shot eyeballs a rest from the onerous task of editing our copy, we nevertheless appreciate the break.

YEAH, WELL, Kelly said to write something about the English FA Cup Final. "Not the routine stuff," he said. "Something other sports columnists won't get."

It's difficult to think of the FA Cup this year without thinking of Errol Crossan "the crew-cut Canadian who played his way into Anglian hearts," to quote UK sports writers. And when you think of Crossan and his courageous Norwich City crew, you naturally think of the club that had the audacity to knock them out of the Cup, Luton Town.

Quite a story over Luton way.

While Norwich were busy killing the hopes of the powerful Sheffield United and setting the scene for hysteria in their home town, Luton were in the process of polishing off Blackpool 1-0. And it's in that game that the true drama of cup play came out.

It was at the 74 minute mark of the 90 minute battle that a dark, curly haired fellow named Allan Brown took a pass from teammate George Cummings, pulled Blackpool goaltender George Farm out of position, then at top speed hammered a low shot into the back of the net.

What's so remarkable about that? Well, we'll tell you.

IN 1933 BLACKPOOL were playing Arsenal in just such a cup game. There came a long pass down the middle to Blackpool's inside forward — one Allan Brown. Allan, a Scottish international at the time, pulled Jack Kelsey, Arsenal's goaltender, out of position, shot low into the net for the winning goal of the game, then collided with Kelsey to sustain a fractured leg. Brown still had his leg in a cast two months later when Blackpool won the cup from Bolton in what is known as the Stanley Matthews' final.

Twice while Brown was on Blackpool's books the seaside club made Wembley. Twice Brown watched the finals from the stands unable to play because of previous injury. It's fitting that he gets his third chance with Luton and we're hoping that whatever gods sit on Mount Olympus watching athletes are kind to him this year. He deserves to walk up into the stands to the applause of 100,000 fans to receive his gold medal.

You see after that leg fracture Brown never hit his true form again. Not with Blackpool, anyway. He was shy going into tact — and had a tendency to pull back when the contest for the ball was between a goaltender and himself.

WE REMEMBER this particularly well because in the spring of 1954 while on one of those pilgrimages English immigrants occasionally take to their home land we watched Allan Brown in action against Fulham United at Bloomfield Road, Blackpool.

As a comparative stranger — we'd been away from English soccer for six years — we commented to an ardent Blackpool fan that Brown lacked "guts". Unwise words for any stranger to make during cup-tie play. We can't repeat here what the Blackpool fan said, but if you've ever heard a Liverpool dock comment on the Conservative government you'll get the idea.

Suffice it to say that for the rest of the game we stood in silence listening to the life story of Allan Brown and the reasons for his shyness in front of the goal.

In 1954 they called Brown the "persistent Scot" and "soccer's unluckiest player." The one title he still deserves, but we're keeping our fingers crossed in case the other title sticks.

THE COME-BACK TRAIL has never been easy. For Allan Brown it was just a little tougher than for most. That he made it against his old club must have given him particular delight. Even from this distance we can recognize the type of courage that makes athletes the idols they are sometimes.

Only said note in Allan Brown's day on Wednesday, March 4, was the fact that on the losing side was Stan Matthews, one time partner and great friend of the stocky Scotsman. This year probably marks the maestro of English wingmen's last tilt at Wembley. Even for so great a teamman as Brown there must be a lump in the throat when it was all over to know that his goal, finely taken and the climax of a great comeback, sent one of his best friends and one of the game's great gentlemen to the sidelines without a final fling at Wembley Stadium.

Patterson-London to Fight at Indianapolis

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — A young New Jersey steel executive making his debut as a fighter, promoter, returns here today to complete plans for a world's heavyweight championship fight May 1 between champion Floyd Patterson and challenger Brian London of England.

The fight, the first title bout ever held in Indiana, will be staged in the state fairgrounds coliseum, which will have a seating capacity of about 13,500.

RUMORS OF GAMBLERS Coeli Rhodes Jr., Cranford, N.J., industrialist - promoter, announced Monday the fight had been switched from Las Vegas, Nev. to Indianapolis to escape rumors of gamblers backing Rhodes, a 34-year-old Harvard law graduate, said there weren't any gamblers backing the Las Vegas fight but added: "I don't want that kind of implication."

In Las Vegas, civic leaders scoffed at the announced reason for the switch and said the real reason was that "resort operators refused to give the financial support requested by the fight promoter."

There was some question about a television contract for the fight, but Al Farh of Indianapolis, co-promoter of the fight, said he believed Rhodes would have it worked out when he returned here.

Vernon in Lead With 4-3 Win

REGINA (CP)—Vernon Canadians scored three times in the third period Monday night to overcome a 2-1 deficit and defeat Regina Caps 4-3 before 2,000 fans in the first game of their best-of-seven western Allan Cup final.

Second and third games will be played here Wednesday and Friday.

The first period was scoreless and Caps went ahead 2-1 in the second. Vernon took a 4-2 lead in third before Caps got their final marker.

Jim Moro, Bill Hryciuk, Art Hart and Willie Schmidt scored for the Canadians, with Schmidt getting the winner. Brian Whittall, Pat Lundy and John Reeve got the Regina goals.

Play was even and both goalies played well, Vernon's Hal Gordon stopped 29 shots, while Regina's Ed Babluk blocked 30.

Both teams had several good chances in the first period, but could not make them count. Each side had nine shots on goal.

Canadians just missed on three chances while Caps' Bernie Grebinsky was off early in the second. Bill Kyle, captain of the Regina team, drew a misconduct penalty for protesting the penalty to Grebinsky.

Brian Whittall opened the scoring at 10:57 on a pass from Elmer Schwartz. Vernon drew even 25 seconds later when Moro took George Agar's passout and rifled it past Babluk from directly in front of the net.

Caps went out in front 2-1 at 12:56 on Lundy's goal, fired from far out between Gordon's legs.

Vernon tied the score at 2:22 when Hryciuk scored at 5:08. He dug the puck loose after Babluk blocked a shot, and flipped it into the net. Canadians took the lead halfway through the period when Hart deflected a shot into the top

WILLIE SCHMIDT ... got the big one

Well Attended Meeting By Fish and Game Club

A scenic tour of the Wells-Barkerville country was the highlight of the regular meeting of the Penticton Fish, Game and Rifle Club at the Canadian Legion last night.

Slides of a trip taken by Mr. and Mrs. Sandy Young and Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Wilson, into the Bowron Lake chain last summer, provided the 60 people attending the meeting with an interesting look into a remote area of the B.C. interior.

There was also a film shown of many types of wildlife, that tied in with National Wildlife Week that is being observed from April 6th to 12th.

Speakers at the meeting were, Geo. Harman, of Princeton, President of the B.C. Interior Fish, Game and Forest Protective Association and Bill Kreller, past president of the association.

Both speakers congratulated the club on winning the Avery King award for being the interior club showing the most accomplished during the year.

Mr. Harman also pointed out that organized fish and game clubs only embraced about 10 per cent of the sportsmen of the province.

He went on to say that this was most unfortunate, as the only way that sportsmen can hope to improve conditions and bring about changes desired, is through these organized groups. It was his hope that many more fishermen and hunters will in the future become members of these clubs, so that they may speak with a single voice for the betterment of all sportsmen.

During the meeting, club President Gordon Halrow, presented the winners of the club's essay contest, which was held earlier, with their trophies and cash awards.

The winners of the senior group, were Ron Muzillo and Margaret Combs and of the junior group, Bob Offer and Jane Russell.

The Avery King award which the club won this year has been in competition for five years. The Oliver club held it for every year except 1956, when it was taken by Vernon.

The high point this year as far as local sportsmen are concerned is the holding of the Provincial Fish and Game Convention here in Penticton from April 30 through May 2nd.

Braves Still Feel Schoendienst Loss

By JACK HAND GRADENTON, Fla. (AP) —

The shadow of Red Schoendienst hangs over the Milwaukee camp this spring. The absence of the second baseman, who is fighting a winning battle with tuberculosis, leaves the National League champions without a leader on the playing field. Every visitor has the same question for manager Fred Haney—"Can you win without Red?"

Haney realizes the important role Schoendienst played both on the field and in the intangibles that do not show in the record books. He was the man with a few words of encouragement that could steady a struggling pitcher. It was Red who made this collection of talented individuals jell into a world series winner in 1957.

HANEY NOT WORRIED "I am not worried particularly about second base," Haney tells all who ask. He means he isn't worried about finding somebody who can field the position until young Mel Ronch's knee heals so that he can make the pivot. He knows he won't find another Schoendienst in this camp — or any other.

Except for second base, this is a set ball club. The same team that blew a 3-1 lead to the Yankees last October is back again. In a way, it is like the spring of 1957 after they had lost a pennant they should have won. They had to prove themselves all over again.

Haney says "If we hit, we win. We have strong pitching, enough defence. Last year our hitters all hit at once or all stopped at once. There was no happy medium. It happened like that in the series after the first two games. Two guys like Eddie Mathews and Johnny Logan don't figure to have two bad years in a row."

The second base situation won't be settled until Ronch is ready. The Braves got scrappy Johnny O'Brien along with catcher Stan Lopata from the Phillies in the deal for righthanded pitcher Gene Conley. But Haney figured this trade would bolster his bench strength.

MANTILLA TO SHINE "What I have in mind right now," Haney said, "is to have Felix Mantilla open the season at second base. Even though O'Brien is a good man at second, we didn't pick him up with the idea of making him a regular right away."

Haney also said that he has every intention of using rookie Chuck Cottier (.269 at Atlanta) as the season rolls along. Chuck is a fine fielder.

Mantilla (.221) may have to move over to short if Logan (.226) has any more leg trouble. Logan slumped 47 points last year. Frank Torre (.309) and Joe Adcock (.275) alternate first and Mathews (.251) will be at third. Mathews, the strike-out king of the series, dropped 41 points in average but kept up his power production with 31 homers and 77 RBIs.

Wes Covington (.330) will be in left, Billy Bruton (.280) in centre and Hank Aaron (.326), the big man of the club, in right. Both Covington and Bruton appear to have recovered from last year's knee injuries.

LOPATA EASES BURDEN Lopata, a 33-year-old righthanded power hitter, will ease the burden on regular catchers Del Crandall (.272) and 36-year-old Del Rice (.223).

The pitching is the department that makes the Braves odds on favorites to repeat. The front line of Warren Spahn (22-11) and Lew Burdette (20-10) is backed up by two promising youngsters, Joey Jay (7-5) and Carlton Wiley (0-7), with left-handed Jun Pizarro (6-4) on the borderline. Bob Buhl (5-2), throwing freely after a season of arm troubles will start later. With such an abundance of talent Bob Rush (10-6) may wind up as the long man on relief.

Richard and Beliveau May Make Stanley Cup

By W. R. WHEATLEY Canadian Press Staff Writer

MONTREAL (CP) — Maurice (Rocket) Richard, veteran of 121 playoff games, geared himself today for an all-out scrimmage session as Montreal Canadiens prepared for their ninth straight appearance in a Stanley Cup final.

There was hope also that Jean Beliveau, injured in the semifinals just finished with Chicago Black Hawks, may be able to play.

Return of the 37-year-old Rocket after a three-month lay-off is an ominous indication that hockey history may be repeated. In November, 1957, Richard suffered an injury that almost severed an achilles tendon. He came back in the tail end of the regular National Hockey League season and roared through the playoffs with an amazing 11 goals, one short of his own record set 11 years previously.

He scored seven goals against Detroit Red Wings in the semifinal and four against Boston Bruins in the final.

BONE BROKEN Last Jan. 18 the Rocket suffered a broken bone in his foot. He started skating again in mid-March aiming to play in the final.

"This will be his first workout at a practice session," said coach Toe Blake. "We're still leaving it to the Rocket as to when he is ready, but we expect to have him in the final."

Nobody will be surprised if Richard takes up his old right-wing spot when the series opens in Montreal Thursday against either Toronto or Boston. The second game will be played here Saturday before the scene shifts to the home of the other finalist for games the following Tuesday and Thursday.

Beliveau suffered a painful spinal injury in Chicago March 28. When he turned up for a light skate Monday, Blake had the surprise of his life.

WON'T HURT HIM "He's far from 100 per cent, but the best news is that he has been told by the doctor there's no danger of aggravating the injury," Blake said.

"There's no indication yet when, or if, he will be able to play but there's definitely a good chance he will get into the final at some stage."

BOSTON (CP)—The supremely confident Toronto Maple Leafs and the taped-up Boston Bruins meet tonight to decide in a minimum of $1,250 for each player and the magnitude of this struggle comes into focus. The losing team gets $750 a man and the winners $1,250. Players who move into the championship series pick up at least another $750.

Bruins and Leafs held light workouts today in preparation for the seventh engagement of their best-of-seven semifinal.

"I'm still confident," said Leaf coach Punch Imlach Monday after Leafs arrived here by plane. "My boys will come through."

EXPECTS HARD TIME Boston coach Milt Schmidt commented apprehensively: "We can't kid ourselves that we're going to have an easy time with the Leafs. I don't care if we are on our home ice."

The big news in the Bruin camp was the possible return tonight of star defenceman Doug Mohns. He has been out since the third game with pulled knee ligaments.

Mohns skated Monday for the first time in more than a week and followed with exercises. "The knee feels real good," he said. "I think I'll be okay to play. This is the big one and we've got to get everybody in on it."

Winnipeg Signs Varone Again WINNIPEG (CP) — Winnipeg Blue Bombers today announced the signing of holdover fullback John Varone, 23, for the 1959 Western Interprovincial Football season.

Varone, primarily used as a blocking back throughout the season, came into his own in the third and final western playoff game against Edmonton Eskimos. He scored two touchdowns and carried 24 times for 92 yards in Bombers' 23-7 win over Eskimos which put them into the Grey Cup. He continued his fine play into the cup final, with some solid blocking and linebacking as Bombers won 35-28 over Hamilton Tiger-Cats.

During the regular season, the former University of Miami backfielder scored two touchdowns and averaged 3.84 yards a carry on 65 attempts.

He was drafted fourth by San Francisco 49ers of the National Football League of the United States when he chose to cast his lot with Winnipeg in 1958.

Full hospitality was awarded Mr. Hill as he and Mrs. Hill won the two-ball foursome which followed the lunch. Mike Marialis was the winner of a competition arranged for the left over men.

The members, at a brief business meeting, gave the directors authority to have an extra room added to the clubhouse to provide accommodation for a caretaker.

IN SOUTHERN RHODESIA

Threatened Republic Stirs Political Row

SALISBURY, Southern Rhodesia (AP)—A threat-or promise-by Prime Minister Sir Roy Welensky to declare Britain's Central African Federation a republic has sparked a bitter political row. Angry protests have come from the federation's African majority.

The present political temperature is the highest since the African nationalist rebellion erupted in Nyasaland a month ago. The secretary of Northern Rhodesia's African National Congress, Titus Makup, warned: "It tells Sir Roy that the day he declares this country a republic, that is the day he fails to rule Africans in this country. On that day we will declare an African republic."

BLAMES LABOR PARTY—Makup's warning came after Welensky told a newspaper man Monday that the federation, linking Northern and Southern Rhodesia and Nyasaland, would go it alone if the British Labor party won the next general election and dishonored agreements made by its Conservative predecessors.

Later he told other newspaper men: "If the British Labor party dishonored agreements between Britain and the federal government, the sequence of events could force the federation to declare itself an independent state. We have not the slightest intention of taking the initiative in this matter. We are leaving it entirely to the Labor party, and it will be in power."

Big Prairie Fire Rages In U.S. State

PIERRE, S.D. (AP)—One of the worst prairie fires of the season, spreading out to eight miles in width at times, raged through central South Dakota Monday night.

Governor Ralph Herseth ordered national guard units from Pierre and Chamberlain to help firefighters. Winds with gusts up to 65 miles an hour sent the fire sweeping south-eastward from northeastern Jones County into Lyman County, skirting the town of Vivian and at times nearing the town of Presho.

It had cut across nearly 30 miles of hay and grassland by 8 p.m. CST, spreading from five to eight miles in width.

Bowater's Tried To Frustrate IWA

By SANDY CAMPBELL, Canadian Press Staff Writer
CORNER BROOK, Nfld. (CP)—Albert Martin, vice-president and general manager of Bowater's pulp and paper mills limited, says his company tried to frustrate the International Woodworkers of America (IWA) "every way we could."

"The IWA was preceded into the province by an unsavory reputation," he said in an interview here Monday. "We didn't like it very much when they set out to represent our loggers."

UNITED UNIONS—The union started organizing in Newfoundland two years ago and was certified in the fall of 1958 as bargaining agent for loggers employed by about 30 independent Bowater's contractors and the Anglo-Newfoundland Development Company at Grand Falls. It replaced four independent unions.

About 1,200 IWA loggers struck A.N.D. Dec. 31 after the company rejected a unanimous conciliation board report recommending a five-cent increase in the basic hourly rate of $3.05 and a six-hour cut in the 60-hour work week without loss in pay.

beginning leaving their jobs in mid-January, Premier Smallwood called it an illegal strike. The IWA said no strike was called. The two IWA locals, claiming 12,000 members, were decertified by the provincial government. The Newfoundland Brotherhood of Woodworkers (N.B.W.W.), set up by the premier, has signed a contract with A.N.D.

"We had more trouble with the IWA than the A.N.D. company had," Mr. Martin said. "Our contractors' camps were raided, men were pushed around and injured, food stolen and equipment smashed."

WOULDN'T NEGOTIATE—After they were certified they made no attempt to negotiate even though my son Leonard chased them around trying to arrange a meeting. They just called a strike."

Leonard Martin, a lawyer, was counsel for about 40 Bowater's contractors. He has organized the Newfoundland Contractors Association which will sign a work agreement with N.B.W.W. Friday.

"The IWA raided four independent unions for its membership," said the Bowater's general manager. "Now they have been raided by the N.B.W.W. It's a taste of their own medicine."

MAN BEHIND UNSUCCESSFUL MINING PROJECT

McKee Earned 'Little Money'

VICTORIA (CP)—The man behind the unsuccessful mining venture in British Columbia which cost about $400,000 made a total salary of only $12,000 in eight years of placer mining.

J. Stewart Smith, superintendent of brokers in the attorney-general's department, announced this Monday night in comments concerning James Harris McKee, Mr. McKee, now living in Santa Rosa, Calif., promoted a scheme to extract gold from sands of the Fraser River at Lillooet. B.C. Residents in Ontario and B.C. many of them members of the Baptist Church, invested thousands of dollars.

MAY ASK McKEE RETURN—Mr. Smith said in an interview that Mr. McKee may be asked to return to Canada from California to explain the loss.

Much of the money for the venture, now being investigated by the Ontario Securities Commission, went through Baptist minister Rev. Leslie Millin, director of the Anti-Communist Freedom Foundation of Canada. Profits were to have been used for a radio station at Prince George, B.C., to broadcast freedom messages to Communist China.

Mr. Smith said Mr. McKee's salary from 1951 to 1958 was only $12,000. The Ontario Securities Commission says it can find no books in Toronto relating to the scheme. The commission launched an investigation Monday to determine what happened to the money. It said that of the $400,000 raised in Ontario Mr. McKee accounted for between $300,000 and $350,000. Mr. Millin said in a Vancouver interview he can account for all the money.

Promissory notes signed by Mr. McKee were given persons who contributed to the plan. Mr. McKee has been quoted as saying he has "absolute confidence" that he will pay back every dollar. He said $750,000 was spent.

Mr. McKee said he expects payments of loans will be made this fall from the income of shares in a saw-chain development, a mining project in California and a combine mulling machine and chemical formula for removing gold from black sands.

SEAL COURTING CAN BE DEADLY

VANCOUVER (CP)—Going a-courting in the animal kingdom can be a deadly game.

The annual report of the Vancouver Park Board solves the mysterious drowning of a male seal last August. A post mortem gave no explanation at the time.

But a month later a big bull seal was found dragging his remaining male companion's body around the Stanley Park seal pool by the nose. A witness reported seeing Charlie earlier persistently pulling the younger seal under water.

Now Charlie, the last of the three male harbor seals, is having a blossoming romance with the only female in the pool.

Masseur Treats MPs For 'Aches and Pains'

By LAWRENCE DWORKIN, Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA (CP)—Joe Tremblay says Canada's parliamentarians are full of vigor when they leave his office. He is the official physiotherapist and masseur on Parliament Hill.

"They come into my office full of aches and pains, but they leave in good physical shape and with clear heads," he said in an interview.

Mr. Tremblay, who looks much younger than his 70 years, has been doing this work in a basement room of the main Parliament Building since 1941. He's seen a lot of politicians, and aches and pains, in his day.

SORE LIMBS—"Most of them come to me for treatment of sore limbs," he said. "But about 10 per cent receive preventive treatment."

Not all parliamentarians visit him. Men like Opposition leader Lester B. Pearson and Transport Minister George Hees "are too healthy to need my services."

The last general election brought a lot of new and younger members to the ranks of the House of Commons and not many of these have yet called into his office.

Mr. Tremblay is proud of the job he has done on some members. "Some times I've picked up members in a wheel chair and taken them to my office. When I was finished massaging them, they wheeled me back to where I picked them up."

Generally, he said, "most members of Parliament are in fair shape." Most of them took an interest in their physical condition.

NO POLITICS—Mr. Tremblay says he never talks politics with any of his patients. But he does like to discuss sports and the weather with them.

One of his pet dreams is to see the establishment on Parliament Hill of a gymnasium for the use of members of the Commons and the Senate. But he doubts that one will ever be provided.

The father of 13 children started his career as a masseur with a Montreal lacrosse team in 1904. He was trainer of the Ottawa Commandos hockey club when they won the Allan Cup in 1943.

Mr. Tremblay, besides keeping others physically fit, also keeps himself in shape.

"Although I'm 70 years old I still try hard to keep in good physical condition," he said. His muscular physique, and the fact he still is working at an age when most people are retired, attest to that.

In the three years 1956-1958 inclusive industry in Canada spent $7.8 billion on new machinery and equipment.

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (Reuters)—African delegates from all parts of South Africa decided Monday to form a new non-white political organization, the Panafrikanist Congress.

The decision was reached at a three-day conference that ended Monday. It was called by an African group which broke with the African National Congress last November.

The aims of the new organization are: To unite the African people on a basis of African nationalism; To fight for the overthrow of white domination and the maintenance of the right of self-determination for Africans;

To strive for the establishment of an African democratic society; To promote the educational, cultural and economic advancement of the African people;

To promote the concept of a federation of Southern Africa and pan-Africanism.

Robert Sobukwe, a lecturer in African languages at Witwatersrand University, was unanimously elected president of the new organization.

TO PAY COMPENSATION—BONN (Reuters)—The West German finance ministry said Monday it had agreed to pay compensation to Dutch citizens who suffered losses to their personal property through confiscations during the Nazi occupation between 1942 and 1944.

Young Actress Doesn't Like Label 'Teenager'

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — One of the most successful teen-agers in the U.S. would like to see an end to the label teen-ager.

Says Carol Lynley: "Why shouldn't we be called 'people in their teen years'? When others hear the word teen-ager, it brings up all kinds of connotations, mostly bad. You don't classify people who are 42 as '42-year-olds.' Why should those in their teens be stuck with a stigma?"

Carol is 17, a honey-blonde who is a honey. Her acting career is booming, on the stage and the home and movie screens. She recently signed a contract with 20th Century-Fox, which gives her the right to do outside pictures, plays and television.

they wanted me to work at $300 a week and go to their acting school.

"I don't believe in acting schools for younger people. I've never had any acting lessons, and I won't have until I'm grown. I think lessons just confuse people who aren't mature."

She refuses to follow the established patterns of teen-age — mean people in their teen years. For one thing, she doesn't like rock 'n' roll. It gives me a headache. Nor does she wear blue jeans, except when practicing dancing. "They don't look good on me."

REPEAT ROLE

All this brings us to her new picture, which is called Blue Denim. She started it last week, the day after finishing another role in Holiday For Lovers. She repeats the role she created in Blue Denim on Broadway, playing a 15-year-old girl who becomes pregnant.

"But she's not a delinquent," Carol said. "She and the boy are actually victims of their own innocence, rather than their guilt. They stumble onto their own love because they are ignored by their parents, who are too busy with their own activities. It's not an unusual occurrence; it happens all the time."

New York-born (as plain Carol Jones), she started working at 10 as a model and actress. Her role as Dora in David Copperfield on TV first attracted 20th-Fox's interest. She passed up a contract to continue working in TV, played opposite James MacArthur in Light in the Forest.

As with farm crops, the period of tree growth varies greatly.

Ontario Mountie Named Deputy Commissioner

OTTAWA (CP) — Assistant commissioner George B. McClellan, 50, is being transferred from Edmonton to Ottawa headquarters of the RCMP with the rank of acting deputy commissioner, it was announced Monday.

No successor is expected for some time, the announcement said. He was officer commanding K division, covering Alberta.

Deputy commissioner McClellan, born in Moose Jaw, Sask., joined the RCMP in 1932 after being graduated from Royal Military College and much of his subsequent service was in Western Canada.

His appointment, effective April 1, is one of a series following the resignation of L. H. Nicholson as commissioner and the appointment of Commissioner C. E. Rivett-Carnac to head the force.

Deputy commissioner McClellan served at Toronto from 1940 to 1946, went to Saskatoon in 1946 to head the RCMP sub-division there and then moved to Ottawa in charge of special branch intelligence and security operations.

He was appointed to head K division in 1956 after a year at the National Defence College and three years at Toronto as head of O division. Married, he has three children.

Both the American and Italian systems of bidding fell down on Board No. 55. Here was a hand where three notrump was ice cold again any distribution of the opponents' cards, but both North-South pairs arrived at four hearts which was ingloriously defeated.

Not that four hearts wouldn't ordinarily be made. It would. But it was an inferior contract to three notrump, and as the East-West cards happened to be divided, the contract had to go down.

Peculiarly enough, the United States team gained 5 international match points on the deal. Fishbein got to four hearts peacefully and went down one—100 points.

But the bidding was more active when the Roman pair, using their artificial methods, held the North-South cards. Here is how the bidding went:

Pass Double

The club bid (artificial) in the Roman system is an introductory call used to show possession of hands. Identification of which type is held comes with the rebid.

The diamond response (artificial) denied affirmative values. Harmon's double indicated diamond strength and was not for takeout.

Avarelli now showed that he had the balanced, strong type of hand (just as Hazen had done) by bidding two notrump. Belladonna was sure there would be a good play for game opposite Avarelli's strong bidding and jumped to four hearts.

When this bid rolled around to Stakgold, he doubled. Stakgold had an advantage—he knew Harmon had diamond strength—which was not obtained at the other table, where East-West were silent throughout.

The double was highly successful. Belladonna was defeated two tricks—500 points. The first three leads were the same at both tables: king of diamonds, ace of hearts (both declarers' faces fell), seven of clubs. The play varied after this.

America gained 400 points on the deal—5 IMPs.

Khrushchev In Poor Health, Reports Claim

By SEYMOUR TOPPING
BERLIN (AP) — Published reports that Nikita Khrushchev is not in the best of health may result from a midnight spell of dizziness the Soviet premier is reported to have suffered in East Berlin last month.

The Hamburg tabloid Bildzeitung Saturday quoted unidentified East-bloc diplomats in Helsinki as saying Khrushchev was under doctor's orders to take it easy after suffering a fainting spell.

It may go back to a gala reception for Khrushchev in East Berlin's Soviet Embassy March 10. Khrushchev was at his party best, knocking back cognac toasts with gusto and quipping with the ladies.

SIGNS OF EXHAUSTION

But once in a while he showed exhaustion. His eyelids grew heavy and he seemed to shrink within himself. For four days he had charged around the Leipzig trade fair making speeches and when he arrived in East Berlin March 7 his face was grey with exhaustion. Still, he kept up the killing pace.

But on the night of March 10, according to Hans Ulrich Kempf, veteran correspondent of Munich's respected Sueddeutsche Zeitung, Khrushchev was leaving the embassy with his entourage.

"I was just about to go when Khrushchev suddenly turned back. He was supported by two men. He was pale and walking unsteadily. He sat down. Bodyguards closed the doors. Lights were turned off."

French Troops Move in After Bloody Riots

COTONOU, Dahomey (AP)—French troops moved into Dahomey's main cities Monday to restore order after a weekend of bloody demonstrations through this young semi-independent Negro republic of Africa.

The troops were called by Premier Sourou Migan Apathy in a move to regain control of territory largely held by members of the main opposition party.

The powerful opposition party, Dahomey Democracy Union (UDD), staged violent demonstrations after last Thursday's general elections.

The UDD captured the biggest number of votes — 172,179 — but because of the way electoral districts were laid out by the government it received only 11 of the assembly's 70 seats.

Clashes occurred in several big centres, chiefly in the northern part of the territory, between UDD followers and members of Apathy's party. In one street demonstration in Parakou about 100 people were reported injured.

Calgary Probe Looks at Payments to Officials

CALGARY (CP) — A judicial inquiry into Calgary's civic administration resumed Monday after a five-week adjournment and continued its investigation into gifts to city officials from persons having business with the city.

The inquiry, under Judge L. S. Turcotte of Lethbridge, heard Mayor Don Mackay testify that: He received an electric dishwasher and $200 in building materials from Stanley Vineberg, a Montreal financier having apartment interests in Calgary.

He may contribute to charity an amount equal to the value of all personal gifts he has received in his capacity as mayor. He received $5,000 and a car as settlement for the part played in organization of Stampede Motors.

PAYING OFF DEBTS

Samuel Helman, council for the mayor, told the hearing that since the inquiry adjourned Feb. 27, Mayor Mackay has paid off more than $6,600 in debts.

Included were $1,750 for a fireplace at his summer home in Banff, $1,000 for the remainder of the down payment on the summer home; $1,300 for repairs to his Calgary home; and $2,000 to oilman Cliff Walker for back loans.

Each of the items had been discussed during earlier phases of the inquiry. The mayor earlier had testified he had refused to pay for the fireplace because it didn't work and couldn't complete the down payment because he didn't have the money.

Replying to questions, Mayor Mackay said he had received gifts from Mr. Vineberg, developer of the Spruce Cliff apartment project, at a time when Spruce Cliff was seeking sewers, roads and bus service from the city.

CONSIDERS CHARITY

Pressed further about gifts he might have received, Mayor Mackay said he was considering turning over to charity an amount equal to their value.

"I am not grabbing a thought in the air. These items have come to the point in my personal life when I would like to give the whole thing to charity," the mayor said.

Asked about his association with Stampede Motors, the mayor said he had been instrumental in 1953 in obtaining a General Motors franchise and had planned

McKee Distressed Over Failure of B.C. Mine Project

TORONTO (CP) — The Telegram says Vancouver promoter James Harris McKee is distressed over the failure of his British Columbia gold-mining project in which Baptists invested about $400,000.

In an interview in California, McKee is quoted as saying: "If I thought they wouldn't get their money back I'd go absolutely insane."

McKee's projects are under investigation by the Ontario and British Columbia securities commissions.

He told a Telegram reporter he will return immediately and voluntarily if investigating authorities wish him to do so.

"I have done no wrong," he said. "The money just ran out."

"I have absolute confidence that I'll pay back every dollar." He said funds of $750,000 are all spent with no return as yet and promissory notes overdue, including $410,000 taken out by Baptist ministers and church members.
